

Spyros Almpertis

Vice President Port Operations, Itinerary Planning & Fuel Management, Crystal Cruises

Spyros Almpertis was born in Piraeus, Greece. Ex Navy Officer has been working for the last 30 years in the cruise industry handling important management positions ashore and onboard for multiple cruise lines. Spyros has an incomparable experience in port operations, itinerary planning, and fleet management.

During his 25 years career with many cruise lines, he managed different departments ashore and onboard. The last several years he worked for Silversea Cruises in Monaco managing all vessels & ports around the world as Senior Director worldwide Port Operation. During COVID-19 restrictions he efficiently managed the fleets that he was in charge of, reinforcing global safety protocols, and allowing a prompt and successful return-to-service. His valuable skills in building a global network of trusted port agents and assuring safe turnarounds at different ports around the world, earned Spyros the appreciation of both ashore and onboard colleagues all over the industry.

Since September 2022, he decided to move ahead with his career joining A&K Group & the new Crystal Cruise under Mr Manfrendi, the ex-owner of Silversea Cruises taking the position of Senior Director Port Ops. In his current role as Senior Director of Port Operations Spyros will be responsible for Crystal's port operations, itinerary planning and fuel management.
